DESIGN CAMILLA LARSEN

Showit display elements are a perfect solution when you are looking for optimal flexibility. Showit consists of four elements that can easily be shaped in order to match the needs and surroundings.

The minimalistic and flexible design of Showit will fit in everywhere and create new display opportunities. It is optimal for displaying book front covers and creating themes using books and objects, thus attracting library users.

Showit consists of four elements, two boxes and two bars made of painted MDF and available in all our standard colours.

Box 195 is available with rotation mountings for Bar 101 allowing the bar to rotate 360°.

All elements are fitted with castors adding mobility to the system. All elements are available with or without laminate on the top surface.
